

February 4, 2019

Dear Friend,

I am writing to offer you the opportunity to become a sponsor for an upcoming conference; Healing Connections: *Rethinking How We Keep Our Communities Safe. This exciting event is being organized by One Standard of Justice, Inc. a civil rights organization that is striving to restore human dignity and constitutional rights to thousands of Connecticut citizens. It will take place at the Lyceum in Hartford on Saturday, April 6th and Sunday, April 7th.

About the Conference

The Healing Connections conference will welcome Dr. Alissa Ackerman, noted researcher, restorative justice practitioner, survivor and advocate, along with a distinguished group of speakers and therapists who will share their experiences and expertise with all those who attend. The full lineup of presenters can be found at <http://www.onestandardofjustice.org>.

The sessions will offer the opportunity for people who have experienced sexual harm, treatment providers, individuals who have perpetrated sexual harm, people who are registered and their family members, judges, prosecutors, public defenders, law enforcement agencies, advocates, legislators, local officials, criminal justice reformers, and clergy members to come together to learn about restorative justice and discuss common sense reforms that offer alternatives to current failed sex crime policies.

Sponsorship Opportunity

We expect to have hundreds of people from all areas of influence attend or receive information about the conference and would like to offer you the chance to reach them with your brand or business message.

These influencers will take the information and materials back to their organizations and communities, offering additional benefit and exposure for your business. Every sponsorship dollar helps offset the cost of this important educational opportunity, making it accessible to all those who would like to attend. Your support will bring us all closer to safer communities, healing and dignity for all citizens.

Please look over the attached sponsorship materials and consider what level works best for you or your organization. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to me at any time. In order to secure your spot, please respond no later than Friday, March 1, 2019 to participate.

Sincerely,

Committee Member
